

FRIENDS OF DIAZ LYNCH ASSAILANT

FRIENDS OF PRESIDENT DIAZ TAKE QUICK REVENGE.

Mob Breaks Down Jail Doors—Arroyo, Who On Thursday Attempted to Assault the Chief Executive of the Mexican Republic, Killed in Prison—General Satisfaction Expressed.

City of Mexico, Sept. 18.—The attempt made Thursday on the life of President Diaz ended Friday morning in a most sensational way. Arnulfo Arroyo was lynched by a band of people determined to revenge his dastardly act. At 1 o'clock in the morning over 200 men forced their way into the municipal palace, ascended the stairway, overcame the guards, made their way to the office of the inspector-general of police and killed Arroyo, whom they found there. The gendarmes who were guarding Arroyo were unarmed. When surprised Arroyo was in a straight-jacket and could make no resistance.

The assistant chief of police, who was sleeping in an adjoining room, was awakened by the noise. He arose and ran to the balcony and fired his pistol as a signal for help. At the same time he called to a policeman who was in sight to make an attempt to detain the lynchers, who were making their escape. The firing of the pistol and the whistles of policemen brought other policemen, who succeeded in capturing a score of persons. When the police entered the room they found the body of the dead man lying in the middle of the floor. It was riddled and hacked with knife stabs. At his side were found a doorbar and several knives and other steel instruments. An examination showed the panes of the window were broken.

General satisfaction was expressed here as the news of the lynching spread through the city, although the more reflective people, especially business and professional men, said they deplored the act of mob violence and feared it would be misinterpreted abroad. Some of the highest officials of the government said that they were wholly puzzled to account for this outburst of popular feeling and regretted that measures had not been taken to guard the prisoner more carefully.

SHOEMAKERS GO OUT.

Great Strike at Brockton, Mass., Against the Chase Machines.

Brockton, Mass., Sept. 18.—Fifteen hundred Chase lasting machine operators and 1,000 finishers and sole fasteners in the shoe factories here struck Friday, and there is every probability of a general strike in the lasting and edge-setting departments of the factories.

The strike is not against the manufacturers. In every factory in the district, excepting Churchill & Alden's, at Campello, there are no differences between employer and employee. The fight is directed against the Chase company and its machines. The trouble grew out of the recent strike of the lasters at the factory of Churchill & Alden. When the men left their work there and demanded an increase in wages the Chase Machine company sent its men into the factory to take the strikers' places.

At a meeting of union No. 39 it was decided to fight the Chase Machine company, whose machines are operated in all the factories on royalty. The Chase company receives a royalty on each pair of shoes lasted on its machine. To cut off this royalty and thereby punish the machine company for sending men in to take the strikers' places is the object. The strikers appear to have the sympathy of a majority of the manufacturers in their fight.

Silver Opinion in Germany.

Berlin, Sept. 18.—The Vossische Zeitung in an article on the discussion of the proposal that the Bank of England should admit silver into its reserve recalls Prince Bismarck's saying, "Acceptance in principle is a polite form of rejection." The paper adds: "The idea that France will reopen her mints while silver is at its present price is preposterous. If the silverites consider this a victory we neither grudge nor envy them for their success."

Corn Escaped the Frost.

Chicago, Sept. 18.—Though frosts came to the northwest Thursday and last nights, the bulk of the corn crop was planted so early it was too well matured to suffer, and wheat had been mostly harvested. Thus there is no marked damage to crops, and reports have been full from widely scattered areas.

General Lee to Visit McKinley.

Washington, Sept. 18.—Gen. Fitzhugh Lee, consul general at Havana, arrived in the city last night. The President, it is understood, desires to have a talk with the consul general over the situation in Cuba before his departure for Massachusetts next week, and Gen. Lee's visit here is presumably for that purpose.

Chimney Factories to Start.

Elwood, Ind., Sept. 18.—The chimney manufacturers signed last year's scale of wages, and the three large factories here will start Thursday, employing 1,000 hands.

CLEANSSE NEW ORLEANS.

Improved Sanitary Conditions Come With a Heavy Downpour of Rain.
New Orleans, Sept. 18.—A heavy downpour of rain Friday has greatly improved the sanitary condition of the city and encouraged the board of health in its belief that yellow fever will be quickly stamped out. The principal streets became raging rivers for awhile and all the gutters were washed out. This effective cleaning of the thoroughfares has gone far toward restoring confidence.

Eight new cases were reported and one death, that of Zena Brauner, which had been classed from the first of the week as suspicious. This makes the record thus far twenty-eight cases and two deaths.

The situation is somewhat quieter at Ocean Springs. Three new cases, however, were reported.

The report of the board of health at Biloxi says there are nineteen cases of actual yellow fever under treatment, with diagnosis reserved as to twelve cases.

Recall of Baron Fava Verified.
Washington, Sept. 18.—The cablegram announcing the recall of Baron Fava, the Italian ambassador to the United States, has been verified. He is to be retired from active service, and the Italian government has granted him a pension of 30,000 lire per annum. The Marquis Imperiali, who has been so long connected with the legation here, both as first secretary and charge d'affaires, is regarded as his probable successor.

Behring Sea Controversy.

London, Sept. 18.—The Times publishes the gist of the correspondence between Secretary Sherman and Lord Salisbury in the Behring sea controversy. The book covers a period beginning with 1895 and ending with July 30 of the present year. Altogether there are 107 dispatches, which show that the United States has pressed for revision since January, 1895. The Times remarks: "Though Mr. Sherman so far forgot himself as to sign the famous dispatch, we cannot suppose that he actually wrote it." Only the concluding paragraph of the dispatch is republished, all the terms deemed discourteous being omitted.

Mrs. Altgeld Seriously Ill.

Chicago, Sept. 18.—Mrs. John P. Altgeld, wife of the ex-governor, is lying at the family apartments in this city, seriously ill with neuralgia. She was stricken several days ago while her husband was in the east on a lecturing tour, but he returned and has been at his wife's bedside for two days and nights. The patient is attended by two physicians, and no visitors are permitted to see her. Her condition is considered dangerous, although the attending physicians declare there is no doubt of her recovery.

Another Glucose Trust.

New York, Sept. 18.—Another large glucose company has been organized and Wall street has speculated today whether it is to be a rival of the company recently organized in Chicago, or an ally. The articles of incorporation of the new company were filed with the secretary of state of New Jersey at Trenton Thursday. Its name is the American Glucose and Sugar Refining company, and it is capitalized at $5,000,000.

Ohio's Silver Campmeeting.

Springfield, O., Sept. 18.—At the national free silver camp meeting Friday a proposition was made to distribute 2,000 tickets free or at least leave the gates open until Sunday. The promoters objected. The speakers were T. E. Tarsney of Detroit, Judge Tarvin of Covington, Ky., Mrs. Elizabeth Tillmington of Cleveland, Charles A. Towne of Minnesota and Charles S. Hartman of Montana.

Suspicious Cases at St. Louis.

St. Louis, Sept. 18.—A special to the Republic from Cairo, Ill., says that two men were taken suddenly ill Friday at Point Pleasant and placed in the Marine hospital. The physicians have not declared them to be suffering from yellow fever, but they are being treated as suspects.

Chicago German Methodist Conference.

Ripon, Wis., Sept. 18.—Business matters occupied the attention of the Chicago German Methodist conference Friday. Rev. S. J. D. Meyn and Hugo Guenther, of Chicago, were chosen to be ordained as elders Sunday.

PROSPERITY GROWS ALL OVER THE LAND

PROSPEROUS CONDITION OF TRADE IS REPORTED.

End of Coal Strike Welcome—The Starting of Mines and Works and the Enormous Exports of Wheat and Corn All Contribute to Improvement of Business.

New York, Sept. 18.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade says: "The end of the bituminous coal strike and the return of many thousand men to work at advanced wages adds to the purchasing power of the people and the anthracite strike affects not a fifth as many workers. The starting of many mines and works, enormous exports of wheat and corn, the favorable news as to those crops and cotton, the fall in sterling exchange and the reports showing the gold imports, begun in August, exceeded exports by $2,390,587, while merchandise exports exceeded imports by $40,953,753, have all contributed to forward the improvement in business.

"The stock market had another of its reactions on Monday, but on Tuesday was higher than ever. The iron industry again shows increasing demand and an average of prices nearly 1 per cent higher, due to purchasing by consumers. Textile mills are more full employed than at any other time for years. Actual buying of wool by mills is increasing at all markets, with the belief that foreign supplies are short.

"Failures for the week have been 204 in the United States, against 317 last year, and 40 in Canada, against 32 last year."

ALL PROOF IS IN.

State Winding Up Its Case Against Luetgert.

Chicago, Sept. 18.—The last of the witnesses for the prosecution of Adolph L. Luetgert for the murder of his wife has been called. With the exception of the evidence on the question of motive, all the state has to say in proof that Mrs. Louise Luetgert was murdered in the sausage factory the night of May 1 and that her husband was the murderer has been said.

What the defense will be is not known. Suggestions have been dropped from time to time, but these have again been contradicted. It is practically admitted by the attorneys for the defense that their plans are still in process of formation. It is probable when the state rests the defense will move for acquittal, on the ground that the corpus delicti has not been established; that it has not been proved that Mrs. Luetgert has been murdered, or that she is even dead, and, therefore, no crime of murder has been proved. That motion will be overruled, and the plans of defense will be revealed as its testimony is adduced.

Expert evidence was continued yesterday.

Laymen Make Their Demand.

Canton, Ill., Sept. 18.—The Laymen's Association of the Methodist Conference met Friday. Resolutions were adopted declaring it to be the sense of the association that the time of a pastorate be continued at the five-year limit; that a national convention of the Methodist laity of the United States be called not later than October, 1898; that at present no church organ of the laity be established. The old officers of the association were re-elected, and the next meeting called for Kankakee in September, 1898.

Indiana Lynching Taken Up.

Versailles, Ind., Sept. 18.—The grand jury investigation into the lynching of five men here early Wednesday morning was begun Friday. Judge New having instructed the jury fully in the law, and referring to the mob in scathing terms of condemnation. The jury immediately took up the case, and subpoenas were issued for a number of citizens here who are known to have witnessed the hanging, and who are believed to have recognized members of the mob.

Hinshaw Case Closed.

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 18.—While the Hendricks county grand jury may continue in session several days, the Baney-Hinshaw case has closed, and it is bruited about generally that an indictment will not be returned, the jury on this proposition standing five to one. The story told by John Short, the brother-in-law of Baney, created a profound sensation, and much bitterness is expressed by Hinshaw's friends, who denounce it as totally false.

City Treasurer Short $6,000.

Edgerton, Wis., Sept. 18.—City Treasurer R. G. Robinson has been discovered to be a defaulter to the amount of about $6,000 of city funds. He has been treasurer for fourteen successive years, and says his shortage extends over a period of twelve years, the money taken having been used for living expenses and board of trade speculations. His bonds are ample to protect the city from loss.

Suspicious Cases at Cairo, Ill.

Cairo, Ill., Sept. 18.—Two men were taken suddenly ill Friday at Point Pleasant, and were brought to this city. They are in the Marine hospital. The physicians have not declared them to be suffering from yellow fever.

A LEAP FOR LIBERTY SUCCESSFULLY MADE

A FOND DU LAC FORGER JUMPS FROM A TRAIN AND ESCAPES.

Was Being Brought From Davenport, Iowa—Asked to Go Onto the Platform—Darkness Covered His Flight—Prisoner Attempted to Commit Suicide When First Arrested.

Fond du Lac, Sept. 18.—[Special]—Oliver P. Rankin, wanted in Fond du Lac on charge of forgery made a desperate leap for liberty from Wisconsin Central train at Rugby Junction early this morning and succeeded in getting away. A few weeks ago Rankin was in Fond du Lac and he passed a check on the Palmer hotel for $50. Later it was discovered that the check was forgery. He was finally traced to Iowa, and was arrested at Davenport. Notice was sent Fond du Lac, and Sheriff Schaefer at once started to get his man. When he arrived in Davenport, Schaefer learned that the prisoner had made an attempt to commit suicide, by taking poison. Early this morning, when the train was going at a speed of twenty-five miles an hour, near Rugby Junction, the prisoner asked the sheriff to allow him to go on the platform for a moment. Sheriff Schaefer accompanied him, when suddenly he saw Rankin take a plunge from the car into the darkness. The train was stopped and a search made, but no trace of the man could be found.

SEE A SILVER SENTIMENT.

London Bankers Think England May Agree to a Conference.

London, Sept. 18.—The letter of the governor of the Bank of England strengthens the impression among the bankers that the government intends to accede to the bimetallic proposals later and it is also interpreted as a reply to a request from the government to the bank asking the latter to co-operate with the former. But it is thought that the fall in the price of silver since the letter was written may change the program.

There is considerable dissatisfaction on the subject among the stockholders of the Bank of England. Robert Benson, a prominent banker, who holds $10,000 of stock trustee, has notified the bank he will sell if the silver policy is inaugurated, and he adds that other trustees will do the same.

Debs Is Against Anarchy.

Chicago, Sept. 18.—Eugene V. Debs and the executive committee of the Social Democracy yesterday afternoon repudiated the anarchistic speeches and incendiary resolutions uttered at the meetings of the local branches last Sunday. Mr. Debs said: "To condemn the shooting of those miners in Pennsylvania is perfectly proper, but when it comes to advocating the use of the torch and other violent and lawless measures, these are not in accord with the principles of the organization. On the contrary, we disavow such utterances in no wise representing the attitude or policy of the Social Democracy. We believe in peaceful and lawful methods."

FORGETFULNESS KILLS FIVE.

Wreck at Howard, Wis., Said to Be Due to an Engineer's Blunder.
Chippewa Falls, Wis., Sept. 18.—Five were killed and three injured in a head-end collision which occurred Friday on the Wisconsin Central Railway at Howard, Wis., a small place three miles north of here. The dead:

RICHARD WARREN, engineer, Chippewa Falls.
ED J. SMITH, engineer, Chippewa Falls.
JOHN SMILEY, fireman, Oxfordville, Wis.

LESTER RYAN, stockman, Fairbault, Minn.

GEORGE SCHAEFER, stockman, Fairbault, Minn.

The injured:

C. H. Miller, brakeman, Chippewa Falls.

William Dixon (colored) horseman.

W. F. Miller, horseman.

The west-bound freight was delayed somewhat, and passed Irvine considerably behind time. It is supposed that the engineer, being behind, forgot that he was to pass No. 24 near that point, and was consequently running through at the usual speed.

PARTY FOUNDERS MEET.

Birthday of Republicanism Is Celebrated at Pittsburg.

Pittsburg, Pa., Sept. 18.—About 200 out-of-town Republicans attended the re-union of the founders of the Republican party Friday. At the business session of the National Fremont association J. Fletcher Budd of Philadelphia was elected president and Maj. R. H. Long of Pittsburg was re-elected secretary. It was decided to name one vice-president from each state in the union. The old-timers put themselves on record by passing a resolution protesting against civil-service reforms. It was decided to raise a fund of $500 to be used to purchase a large oil painting of John C. Fremont, to be hung in the national capitol. One of the decorations of the hall was the original flag used by the famous expedition.

Next year's meeting will be held in Philadelphia.

Cure for Cattle Fever.

Denver, Col., Sept. 18.—After many months of effort and repeated experiments, a cure for cattle fever has been found. Dr. V. A. Vorgaard of this city is the discoverer. The plan for dealing with the fever is primarily to exterminate the insect known as the "tick," which abounds on fever-stricken cattle, and by means of which the disease is communicated. To do this the cattle are forced to swim through a solution in a vat. What the solution is is not known at the present time, but crude petroleum is used.

If the new remedy proves to do all that it is claimed it can do the cattle market will experience somewhat of a revolution, and about 500,000 head of cattle will be shipped north each year during the now prohibited season, which extends from Feb. 15 to Nov. 15. A meeting of all states and territories that handle cattle has been called to meet in Fort Worth on Sept. 27, when it is expected the new scheme of dipping cattle will be shown.

Troops to Go to St. Michael's.

Washington, Sept. 18.—The report from Captain Ray, the army officer who was sent to Alaska to investigate the condition of affairs there, formed the basis of the cabinet decision to send a small force of soldiers to St. Michael's at the earliest moment. Captain Ray's report showed that without doubt great suffering must be expected in the Klondike region this winter, owing to the lack of food supplies.

Reports to Gov. Mount.

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 18.—Deputy Attorney General Moores, who was sent to the scene of the Versailles lynching by Gov. Mount, returned Friday and submitted his report to the executive. Upon receiving the report the governor addressed letters both to the judge and prosecutor, commending their zeal, and offering any assistance that might be necessary to preserve order and vindicate the law.

British Force Defeated.

Camp Anayat, via Pankajora, Sept. 18.—British troops suffered severe losses Friday in a battle with the rebellious Mohmands. One hundred and forty in the Second brigade of Gen. Sir Bindon Blood's division have been either killed or wounded. The Mohmand loss was also heavy, but it is impossible to state to what extent the rebellious natives suffered.

Heavy Frost in Nebraska.

Omaha, Neb., Sept. 18.—Considerable frost was noticed throughout Nebraska Friday morning. All the early corn was out of danger. Ice was formed in some parts of the state. Probably 50,000,000 bushels of late corn remain that has not been destroyed by the late drought.

Another Rest for McKinley.

Washington, Sept. 18.—The President has arranged to leave Washington early next week for a short visit to Massachusetts. He will be accompanied by Mrs. McKinley and his stenographer. His destination is North Adams, Mass., where he will be the guest of W. D. Plunkett, an old friend.

Wisconsin Crops Hurt.

Plainfield, Wis., Sept. 18.—There was a heavy frost all over central Wisconsin Thursday night, killing corn, potatoes and buckwheat.

OLD WAVERLY HOUSE IS GUTTED BY FIRE

OWING TO RENOVATION HOTEL WAS UNOCCUPIED.

Nothing Was Saved From Fire—Building Valued At $20,000—Insurance $10,000—One of the Oldest and Best Hotels in the State—A Favorite of Commercial Travelers

Appleton, Sept. 18.—[Special]—Early this morning the Waverly House here was totally destroyed by fire. Building was valued at $20,000, insurance $10,000. It was owned by the B. Rogers estate. Nothing was saved. The building was being renovated throughout and the boards were scattered at other houses. It was one of the best hotels in the city and the oldest. For many years it was a favorite Sundaying place for commercial travelers.

Fond du Lac Stirred Up.

Fond du Lac, Sept. 18.—[Special]—A big sensation has been caused here by the announcement of the Kite Park Association, that a race meeting will be held tomorrow (Sunday). The promoters claim that they are away behind in finances, and can only make up by holding races on Sunday. Minutemen are stirred up, but no one can be found who will move to take out an injunction.

WOMEN CAUSE MUCH TROUBLE

Drive Workmen From Mines Near Hazleton—General Cabin Is Uneasy.

Hazleton, Pa., Sept. 18.—The strike situation may be summarized thus: Over 10,000 men are still out, with no apparent prospect of settlement. Sporadic outbreaks of violence are occurring near the outlying collieries, and the withdrawal of troops is not only out of consideration, but the guard lines of several of the camps are being constantly strengthened, and the wisdom of bringing more cavalry is being discussed. It was said that if the soldiers are kept here much longer, the Sheridan troop of Tyroni, attached to the Second brigade, will be ordered out.

A captain of Gen. Gobin's staff is authority for the statement that an uneasy feeling prevails at headquarters in consequence of the little outbreaks of the past few days. The brigade commander admitted that the action of the raid women was giving him much perplexity. He does not care to use force against them and has instructed his soldiers to use only the flats of their sabers upon the amazons. The story reached the general that many men were in the attacking crowds of Thursday and Friday disguised as women.

Refuse to Aid the Suffering.

Spring Valley, Ill., Sept. 18.—A petition of business men and citizens of Spring Valley was presented to the board of supervisors Friday asking $2,000 to relieve the distress of over 4,000 men and women and children on the relief list in this city. S. M. Daltzell, the general manager of the Spring Valley Coal company, sent a communication to the chairman of the board, stating that his miners had refused to go to work and he refused to subscribe anything and also refused to sign the petition to aid the distressed. There is considerable indignation expressed by the miners' leaders over the manner in which the appropriation asked for was killed.

Will Confer Next Wednesday.

Terre Haute, Ind., Sept. 18.—The Indiana operators and miners, after an all-day conference Friday, agreed to postpone the effort to adopt a wage scale until next Wednesday, with the understanding that the men may dig coal in the meantime at 56 cents. Some of the operators are willing to sign this contract, but those of the northern part of the state wanted a promise that in the event of the Grape Creek or Danville, Ill., districts accepted a reduction a corresponding reduction would be accepted in Indiana.

Appeal to Miners to Quit.

Des Moines, Iowa, Sept. 18.—The executive committee of the organization of miners in this district has issued an appeal to the men still working, asking them to cease work by Monday, and notifying them that unless they strike their names and nationalities will be published as enemies of labor.

Sheriff Martin's Opinion.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Sept. 18.—Sheriff Martin returned from Hazleton Friday. He said there was nothing new to report. "So long as there are so many idle men," said the sheriff, "there will be danger of an outbreak. I have no doubt if the men returned to work peace and good will would soon be restored."

Revolt of Strikers.

Pittsburg, Pa., Sept. 18.—It is learned that the opposition of the Belgian striking miners to accepting the compromise rate of 65 cents per ton has developed into an open revolt against the officials of the miners' union. Trouble is expected.

Work Generally Resumed.

Mascoutah, Ill., Sept. 18.—With the exception of the Consolidated and the Madison Coal companies, all the coal mines in this district have resumed work.

MARKET DAY PLANS NEARLY COMPLETED

MUCH PLEASURE AND PROFIT
ASSURED FARMERS.

September 25 the Date—Large List of Prizes Donated by Local Merchants—Many Citizens Favor a Permanent Organization—Much Enthusiasm Shown.

Janesville is sure to have a market day or more properly speaking a young and very healthy fair on Sept. 25. It is on an equal degree certain that the affair will be a success. This was fully guaranteed by the citizens meeting last night at the council chamber.

Mayor Thoroughgood presided and O. C. Bennett acted as secretary. Remarks were made by a number of well known citizens among them Fred L. Clemons, Piny Norcross, Capt. W. T. Vankirk and J. H. Burns, all favoring the enterprise. The underlying sentiment of all the speakers strongly favored a permanent institution. There was talk of making a long term lease of the rink for a headquarters. Fred L. Clemons was mentioned as the best man for permanent secretary. That worthy said he would not be adverse to the post of secretary but that he would not accept a compensation. After considering the subject of a permanent market day the meeting got down to the business of making the proper provision for the fair.

The date was fixed for Sept. 25. Capt. W. T. Vankirk donated the unused part of the rink.

J. H. Burns donated the, Galbraith barns.

Prizes numbering 159 and $31 in cash have been donated.

The prizes will be apportioned Monday. They will cover all lines of farm and dairy products, and live stock. Contests will be similar in character to those held at the midwinter fair.

TOBACCO THIS YEAR A BANNER CROP

SIGNS POINT TO ACTIVE WINTER IN TRADE CIRCLES.

The 1897 Crop Is All Housed And Is Coming Out Satisfactory—Fine Condition of Early Tobacco—Quality Universally Good—Growers Expect Good Prices.

The tobacco market in as far as it concerns the 1896 crop is stagnant. Only a few sales have been made in the week. Sampling is pretty generally over and from the samples obtained it is concluded that the crop will meet with considerable favor in Eastern markets.

The 1897 crop is now practically housed. At one time the warm weather threatened to dry out the leaf. Damage was averted by the midweek showers. The tobacco that was put in earlier has dried down to the stem and presents a fine appearance. The indications are that the crop will be the best that has ever been raised in Wisconsin. It did not suffer any damage from heat or frost.

There are the usual bull rumors in circulation regarding transactions in 1897 crop already recorded. From Virroquo come a report that large quantities are being bought, subject to proper curing and handling, at 7 cents.

In and about Janesville there are indications of a coming activity.

Warehouses are generally being overhauled, and buyers are getting a record of crops preparatory to an extensive season of business.

The tone is decidedly bullish among growers and buyers seem to be waiting for some sort of an opening.

BENEATH DEATH'S CLOUD

Hattie Peake Barker.

Hattie Peake Barker, died at her home in Beaver Dam, the last of August. Mrs. Barker will be remembered as the eldest daughter of Rev. T. DeWitt Peake, formerly pastor of the Court Street M. E. church.

Miss Peake was married to Mr. Barker, a young business man of Beaver Dam, some two years ago. The young couple owned a beautiful home and bright prospects for a long and happy life were flattering, but the angel of death called away the life of the happy wife and young mother, and the hearts of many friends were stricken with grief.

Mrs. Barker was a woman of rare christian character, active in the church of her choice, and enjoying the love and friendship of the entire community. In respect to her memory union services were held at one of the principal churches and many were turned away who were unable to gain admission.

Mr. Peake is now located at Beloit. The family will have the sympathy of many Janesville friends in their deep bereavement.

MANY BELOIT HAPPENINGS

Collegiate, Religious and Local Events Are Entertainingly Told.

Beloit, Wis., Sept. 18.—[Special]—Mrs. Maria Lippitt was found dead in bed by her son yesterday, when he went to her residence to call on her. She had retired in usual good health the night previous, and her sudden death is attributed to heart disease.

At a business session of the managers of the Round Table, the journal of Beloit college students, it was decided to issue the paper every week instead of every two weeks, the subscription price remaining the same. Mr. E. Enright of Janesville will officiate as local editor and will be assisted by Miss May Nye of Superior.

The annual session of the Madison Presbytery, which includes the Presbyterian churches of the southern part of the state will be held in this city on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of next week. On Wednesday night Rev. J. Henry Barrows, the noted Chicago divine will address the meeting on missionary topics. About fifty delegates are expected to be present.

The market day association of this city is planning to erect permanent sheds or buildings in which the farmers of the vicinity can exhibit their stock and produce. The building will be located on the west side at the corner of Fourth and Bridge street.

The school question is still troubling the people of this city, and especially the Second school district. Despite the fact that hundreds of people in the district have signed petitions favoring the proposed plans and site, the parties securing the restraining injunction refuse positively to withdraw from their position, claiming "the people" should be heard on the question, and all this while one hundred and fifty children of "the people" are deprived of their school privilege.

Harry B. Ross, representing the Berlin Machine works, is in quarantine at Meridian, Miss., where the yellow fever panic prevails. He had been to Jackson, Miss., and had a certificate from the health officers of that city, but was unable to convince the Meridian authorities that he had not been exposed to the dreaded fever. Today he sends word to Beloit friends that he will soon be released.

MARIE BELL NEXT WEEK

Janesville People Will Have Good Singing Tuesday Evening.

On Tuesday night the Marie Bell Opera company will present at the Opera House one of the greatest successes in their extensive repertoire, "Fra Diavolo," the master work of Aubert, one of Germany's greatest composers has been selected as being the one opera combining all the features of general popularity and most likely to please all classes of amusement seekers. It is a grand opera with a strong vein of rich comedy running throughout the entire work and while it has many numbers that reach the sublime in the richness of tone and beautiful music there is much that is as popular as the general run of Gilberts and Sullivan's creation.

Miss Bell as "Zerlina" is given her best opportunities both as a vocalist and actress and recently in Minneapolis raised the audience to a pitch of enthusiasm that has seldom been seen in that or any other city.

YOUNG BOY DROWNED IN THE KLONDIKE

ROCK COUNTY MAN LOSES HIS SON.

News Comes in a Letter to La Prairie Friends—Carl Reimer Dragged Eighty Rods Behind a Runaway Horse, with a Corn Cutter Bumping Close Behind.

Tiffany, Sept. 17.—A letter from De Forest Chase, for many years a resident of La Prairie, and now on the Klondike in Alaska, states that his youngest son was drowned in that stream in July last. The boy, with a comrade, had crossed the river and engaged in the pastime of rolling stones down the bank, and young Chase, fearing the boat would be endangered, went to remove it. This was the last that was seen of him alive, his body being found some four weeks after. Mr. Chase has another son with him, and has a claim, from which he has strong hopes of realizing a fortune.

Child Dragged by Runaway.

It was a wild ride that little Carl Reimer took last Wednesday, on a runaway horse. The boy was riding in front of a sled corn cutter, when the horse took fright and bolted, throwing him off, his foot catching in the back strap, and for eighty rods or more the frightened animal ran through the standing corn, with the body of the child sometimes bounding on the ground, and again swinging in the air. Henry Reimer, the father of the child, was on the sled when the horse started, and succeeded in catching the runaway, and rescuing the lad before he was permanently injured, although insensible. Strange to say, not a bone was broken, and Carl is getting around all right.

House Struck By Lightning.

During the thunderstorm Thursday morning Charles Rice's house was struck by lightning. The bolt entered at one side of the lower story of house, crossed the room over the windows, went out of the other side, followed a wire netting fence to the front gate which it demolished. The chimney was also badly demoralized, as was the breakfast of which the family were partaking.

Harry Van Galder lost a full blood Jersey bull on Wednesday. While driving it along the road it ran into a barn, jumped out of the back door and broke its neck. Harry says it was worth $100.

Strong Demand For Twine.

The demand for binding twine is astonishing our dealers here, and the low rates at which it is sold astonishes the buyers.

A good deal of grain and hay is being loaded at this station and O. P. Smith, our grain buyer, is kept busy. Mrs. Tilla Hopkins of St. Louis, is visiting friends in this section.

The Congregational church in Shopiere, is receiving a coat of paint at the hands of E. M. Hopkins. The rain of Thursday morning did great good and will insure fall feed in plenty. Tobacco is about all shedded in this section, and growers are very well pleased with the crop.

Slipped Butter to England.

The creamery has packed this summer over 600 packages of 55 pounds each in boxes for the English markets. Dewitt Parker has moved to Whitewater, and his father, A. D. Parker, is contemplating moving to Beloit.

VanGelder Bros. are receiving new stock. Mr. Barker expects to start his sorghum mill soon. E. J. Dole has a swarm of bees that produced two hundred pounds of comb honey last year and is trying to beat its record this year. It has cast no swarms in two years. The annual missionary collection at the M. E. church a few Sundays ago amounted to over $50. Walter Schultz is back again full of hope of prosperous times under McKinley. A good many changes among tenants on farms are occurring this fall. William Hohn has purchased the old Swingle homestead, the first time the place has ever changed owners. The Klondike fever in a mild form is raging in this section.

DIPHTHERIA PROVES FATAL.

Mrs. Ida Tripp Loses Her Eight-Year-Old Son, Little Clark.

The death of Clark Tripp, the eight-year-old son of Mrs. Ida Tripp, formerly of this city, is mentioned by the Rockford Gazette as follows:

It has been hoped until near the last that the life could be saved but on Sunday evening the patient seemed to realize that he must die and hope was given up. The mother was almost overcome with grief, but sympathizing friends could not go near to offer their assistance. The one way in which they were allowed to express their sorrow over the loss of the little boy who had become a favorite in the neighborhood was by sending flowers and there were great quantities of them. The fresh grave was buried beneath the offerings and yet there were more.

"Little Clark," as he was always called, had lived there with his mother several years. They came from Janesville and his father is at present away. A sister also is in California.

The boy was one of unusually amiable traits and had become a favorite in the neighborhood, being lively and making many friends, but never getting in anyone's way. He was loved by all and when he came to what was to be his last sickness, loving hands administered every care that could be suggested, but to no avail. On Sunday evening he realized the fact that he could not live, and calling his mother murmured a prayer asking that she might be blessed and kept and then asking that his playthings be put away, as he would not use them any more, said good-bye and resigned himself contentedly to the change which was ever then approaching. The bereaved mother has the sympathy of many friends in the loss she has suffered.

RULE OR RUN, SAYS MR. LOW.

According to dispatches from Washington, the president has been literally besieged by New York politicians, one element bent on dragging him into the fight in "Greater New York," and the other equally determined to keep him out of it. Senator Platt has made a strong appeal to the executive to take a hand in behalf of what is known as the "regular" organization and in opposition to Seth Low, the nominee of the Citizens' Union.

Upon high authority it is stated that the president will keep his hands off, as he did in the Chicago mayoralty fight last spring. This decision places Senator Platt in an embarrassing position. If he goes ahead, as he has every reason to do, and puts a "regular" republican ticket in the field, it will insure the success of Tammany. Even if he should compel the endorsement of Mr. Law that gentleman could hardly win. In a three-cornered fight to a finish between the Citizens' Union ticket, a Platt ticket and Tammany, the latter is almost certain to win.

Greater New York will cast 550,000 votes at the election in November. This vote, as matters now stand, may be classified as follows:

Seth Low and the citizens' ticket..... 125,000
Regular republicans..... 175,000
Tammany..... 200,000
Paddy Gleason and other hobbles..... 50,000

Tammany leaders believe they have the best of it and are out for success. As between a Tammany ticket and Seth Low, with all the endorsements in sight, including Platt's the democrats would have by far the better chance. With decided opposition it would be a walk-away over the old, corrupt organization, and Greater New York would begin the fulfillment of its destiny bound hand and foot and turned over to the 60,000 heelers who constituted the working end of that great ascension. It is the strongest and most compact political organization in the United States and it is playing for the distribution of $75,000,000 a year, which the amount the property of Greater New York will be taxed every year for maintaining the machinery of local government.

NOBODY CARES.

Gold is a little slow in starting to come to the United States from Europe but it will be flowing in this direction before long. Nobody, though, is showing much interest in the matter one way or the other. The treasury authorities have stopped making any efforts to increase the gold reserve, which is in excess of $145,000,000. The banks, too, have more gold than they can make profitable use of. In this respect the situation is better than it was at any previous time in seven or eight years.

RUN BY A SYNDICATE

It is reported that Honduras is about to hand over the administration of its public affairs to a syndicate of an American business men. Engaging a Yankee trust to run a nation is a novelty in the science of government. Honduras may now prepare itself to get along with the gold standard and without the luxury of revolutions. Cuba would be the paradise of the New World had it been under such management for the last twenty years.

Although one may condemn the act, one cannot help admiring the principle which prompts a man to take another's life in the defense of the honor of a female relative, provided the killing be openly done; but there was something to admire in the sneaking as-assination of one Georgia men by another, who claimed that his sister had been insulted. The man who will shoot another through a bedroom window has nothing whatever to do with honor.

As soon as he found out that he could not get it, Mr. Richard Where-did-he-get-it Croker announced that he didn't want the nomination for mayor of the Greater New York.

BUFFALO BILL's show drew an audience of 12,000 at the two Rockford performances. It has been said by people apparently close to the management, that Janesville will be given the go-by in the 1898 itinerary. It might be remarked in this connection that Janesville will not feel bad, especially if the show continues to degenerate.

THE wreck in which John Smiley was killed occurred at three o'clock yesterday afternoon three miles north of Chippewa Falls. It was a head-on collision. Both trains were running at the rate of thirty miles an hour and were heavily loaded. The east bound train, according to dispatch, had the right of way while the west bound failed to make a siding by about one minute. The west bound suffered the greatest wreck as the other was coming down grade at a high rate of speed. Conductor Horn of the train which failed to get on the switch claimed that he had one minute to get his train out of the way.

THE remains of John Smiley will arrive in this city at 10:40 tonight. The funeral will occur at 2:30 Sunday at the Methodist church, Orfordville. Rev. Robert C. Denison, of the Congregational church of this city, will conduct the services.

John Smiley was born in the town of Plymouth, Sept. 12, 1866. For a time he worked for the Janesville Machine Co. On June 5, 1895 he was married to Mae Dillenbeck. His residence was St. Paul.

YOU CANNOT CURE PILES

By Internal Remedies.

The only sure way to cure every form of piles is to use a remedy like the Pyramid Pile Cure which is applied directly to the parts affected and its wonderful healing effects are apparent from the first application because the medicinal properties are rapidly absorbed by tissues and sensitive membranes of the rectum, and the cure is made speedily and almost before the patient is aware of it, every trace of piles has left him.

LIVED ON THE CITY FOR TWELVE YEARS

ROBINSON SAYS HE STOLE JUST SO MUCH PER YEAR.

Amount About $300—Total Shortage
$5,500—Bondsman For Twelve Years Responsible—Ran But
One Bank Account—A Successor Elected.

The approximate amount which R. G. Robinson, City Treasurer of Edgerton was short, was $5500. This has been determined by an examination of his books by his bondsmen.

A very interesting fact and one from which the bondsmen derived great comfort is in effect that this defalcation has extended over a period of twelve years and that the bondsmen for each year of the twelve are responsible for the shortage during that year. Quite a number of Edgerton citizens are in consequence financially interested in the affair.

Robinson talks very freely regarding the matter, stating that the money which he has taken was used for living expenses and that it has averaged very steadily between $200 and $300 per year.

Mr. Willson, one of the bondsmen, is in Janesville today on matters connected with the shortage. Among other things, Robinson's books do not show that delinquent taxes have been properly entered it is said.

Mr. Willson was unable to see County Treasurer Thorpe today, as the latter was called to Evansville by the death of his wife's mother. County Clerk McIntyre says that the Edgerton delinquent taxes for last year were only $3.00, and although the matter extends over a period of twelve years, at this rate the amount involved would be small.

It seems that his salary as city treasurer was paid in the form of a percentage, and that at the present time it amounts to only $175 a year. This is practically all he has had to live on, barring public funds. He has no property; the only asset which he did possess being two life insurance policies aggregating $1,600. These are in the possession of the Edgerton Bank, as collateral.

It seems that he kept but one account at the bank, that being subject to his order. To the credit of this he made his personal deposits as well as those as city treasurer.

Robinson was very systematic in his embezzlements. It is understood that his books show each year just what the shortage for that period was.

The question of prosecution has not been fully determined and it is believed will rest largely with his bondsmen.

Robinson does not attempt to deny what speculation and it is well known that he has speculated in wheat for years, although on a small scale. His confession was not caused by the new turn in the wheat market but because the defalcations could no longer be covered up.

The Edgerton common council held a meeting yesterday afternoon and elected J. W. Conn, treasurer.

Robert Attlessey and Harry Ebbott, two of the Robinson bondsmen were in Janesville today. Mr. Ebbott speaking of the case said: "We have not as yet fully decided on line of action regarding Robinson which one we will take. His mother is now lying at the point of death at her home in Edgerton and for this reason I think that we will take no steps at present towards his prosecution. We are here today to consult local attorneys."

THEY ARE PAST FINDING OUT.

The ways of the Methodist Conferences Are Mysterious.

The Janesville Hub this week refers to a former Janesville Methodist pastor, who was exceedingly popular in Janesville, and whose removal about a year ago from the First M. E. church caused considerable hard feeling. It says: Rev. B. K. Manaton will go to the annual conference of the M. E. church, at Marinette, next Tuesday. It is not certain whether he will be returned to Stoughton again. He has been with the Stoughton church a year and everybody here wants him to come back. But the mystery of Methodist conferences and Methodist bishops are past finding out.

WARD WELL KNOWN IN JANESVILLE

NOVELTY WORKS.

He Invented An Ice Boat That Would Run By Steam and Would Cross
Patches to Open Water—Gave the Fire Department a Cannon.

In the Gazette chronology a day or two ago was this paragraph:

Colonel Norman Ward, expert on ordnance and inventor of guns and projectiles, died at Reading, Pa., Sept. 13, 1896; born, 1816.

To none but old settlers in Janesville will this reference give up its full meaning. Few of the younger generation know that Mr. Ward was for years prominently identified with the manufacturing life of the city. Col. Ward came here in the late fifties. He bought out J. H. Budd's interest in the Novelty Works where Carle's tobacco warehouse is now located. He was a nervous, energetic man, a thorough master mechanic, an inventor and a genius, but during his Janesville stay had little money. What little money he did have he spent in manufacturing ventures, and finally giving up his Janesville business he went to Prairie du Chien.

Nothing Beyond Prairie du Chien

From a railroad point of view Prairie du Chien was then the "jumping-off place." No roads ran beyond it either west or up the river. St. Paul was a military post, Minneapolis was unknown, there being only a little settlement known as St. Anthony where the great city now stands.

From Prairie du Chien to the north the only communication was by boat as long as Mississippi river was open. There was none in winter except by sleighs. Ward saw an opportunity and built a scow bottom under a railroad passenger coach given him by Alexander Mitchell. He put runners on the scow and geared the steam power to a pair of big paddle wheels, and to spiked iron wheels under the center of the boat.

Ice Boat and Water Boat.

Thus he had an ice boat which would run equally as well in the water. On the ice it was propelled by the spiked wheels. When it came to the open water the paddle wheels carried it along to the next patch of ice where the ice wheel could be brought into use. He ran it one winter and did a big business, then the war broke out and he went to New York. He invented a breech-loading cannon. He made guns from that time on, and his cannons are now in use but under the name of the capitalist who furnished banking.

Ward sent one of his guns to the Janesville Fire Department in an early day but the freight charge was $100 and it was returned.

J. H. Budd from whom Ward bought the novelty works in this city is the subject of another train of reminiscences. He went to California from here with his family. His son who is now serving his second term as governor was born here. He was here a short time ago visiting his uncle, James Harris of the Janesville Barb Wire Co. J. H. Budd was the first assistant engineer of the Janesville Fire Department. His son Governor Budd was chief of the Stockton, Cal., department and the fire boys boomed him for congress. He was elected, to the surprise of all, and showed such running qualities that it was determined to make him governor.

COAL BEGINNING TO MOVE.

Railroads Notifying Shippers That Deliveries
Will Be Prompt.

The termination of the soft coal strike in Illinois and Indiana has been followed by notice to officers by the St. Paul company that shipments of coal may be resumed. This means presumably that there is no longer any danger of confiscation of the coal by the railroad company.

Janesville did not suffer to any great extent as a result of the strike. The railroads of the Northwest, including the St. Paul and Northwestern appear to have had enough fuel.

Fifty couple attended the social hop at the Armory last evening given by members of the Light Infantry. These parties will follow the Friday night drills through the winter.

WILL VOTE ON HIGH LICENSE

Citizens Called Upon Next Tuesday to Determine
Amount For Next Three Years

A fact not generally understood is that a special election will be held in this city on next Tuesday for the purpose of determining the amount of the license for the ensuing three years. The law provides that once in three years, on the third Tuesday of September, the question of the amount of license may be submitted to the voters and shall be so submitted upon written request of twelve citizens.

A petition was signed by eighteen citizens, complying with the law, calling for the election as stated. The issues are for a license of $500, one of $350 and one of $200 per year, for the next three years.

This license money is applied by the city to the Fire and Water fund to the extent of $4,500 and the balance, if any, to the general fund.

The revenue derived by the city last year under the $500 license was about $23,000.

It does not require a very astute mind to see that any decrease in the license means an increase of taxes.

Price of All Woolens Advanced Because of Higher Raw Material

Three hundred representatives of

They resolved to restrict production if necessary to carry the point. This action has a direct bearing upon local industries.

M. H. Soverhill of this city, shipped four cars of raw wool last evening to Philadelphia. The shipment, which was over the St. Paul road, was valued at $8,000 and was purchased in this vicinity.

And the Rigor of the Game

By ROBERT BARR.

CONTINUED.

There was no low, groggy appearance about the True Blue Athletic edifice. It was brilliantly lit from basement to attic. A group of men, with hands in pockets, stood on the curb as if waiting for something. There was an air of occasion about the place. The old man inquired of one of the loafers if that was the Athletic club.

"Yes, it is," was the answer. "Are you going in?"

"I intend to."

"Are you a member?"

"No."

"Got an invitation?"

"No."

"Then I suspect you won't go in. We've tried every dodge ourselves."

The possibility of not getting in had never occurred to the old gentleman, and the thought that his son, safe with in the sacred precincts of a club, might defy him flogged his flagging anger and aroused his dogged determination.

"I'll try, at least," he said, going up the stone steps.

The men watched him with a smile on their lips. They saw him push the electric button, whereupon the door opened slightly. There was a brief, unheard parley; then the door swung wide open, and when Mr. Saunders entered it shut again.

"Well, I'm blessed!" said the man on the curb. "I wonder how the old duffer worked it. I wish I had asked him." None of the rest made any comment. They were struck dumb with amazement at the success of the old gentleman who had even to ask if that were the club.

When the porter opened the door, he repeated one of the questions asked a moment before by the man on the curb.

"Have you an invitation, sir?"

"No," answered the old man, deftly placing his stick so that the barely opened door could not be closed until it was withdrawn. "No. I want to see my son, Richard Saunders. Is he inside?"

The porter instantly threw open the door.

"Yes, sir," he said. "They're expecting you, sir. Kindly come this way, sir."

The old man followed, wondering at the cordiality of his reception. There must be some mistake. Expecting him? How could that be? He was led into a most sumptuous parlor where a cluster of electric lamps in the ceiling threw a soft radiance around the room.

"Be seated, sir. I shall tell Mr. Hammond that you are here."

"But—stop a moment—I don't want to see Mr. Hammond. I have nothing to do with Mr. Hammond. I want to see my son. Is it Mr. Hammond the banker?"

"Yes, sir. He told me to bring you in here when you came and to let him know at once."

The old man drew his hand across his brow, and ere he could reply the porter had disappeared. He sat down in one of the exceedingly easy leather chairs and gazed in bewilderment around the room. The fine pictures on the walls related exclusively to sporting subjects. A trim yacht, with its tall, slim masts and towering cloud of canvas at an apparently dangerous angle, seemed sailing directly at the spectator. Pugilists naked to the waists held their clinched fists in menacing attitudes. Race horses in states of activity and at rest were interspersed here and there. In the center of the room stood a pedestal of black marble, and upon it rested a huge silver vase incrust with ornamentation. The old man did not know that this elaborate specimen of the silversmith's art was referred to as the "cup." Some one had hung a placard on it bearing in crudely scrawled letters the words:

Fare thee well, and if forever
Still forever fare thee well!

While the old man was wondering what all this meant the curtains suddenly parted and there entered an elderly gentleman somewhat jauntily attired in evening dress with a rose at his buttonhole. Saunders instantly recognized him as the banker, and he felt a resentment at what he considered his foppish appearance, realizing almost at the same moment the rustiness of his own clothes, an everyday suit, not too expensive even when new.

"How are you, Mr. Saunders?" cried the banker, cordially extending his hand. "I am very pleased indeed to meet you. We got your telegram, but thought it best not to give it to Dick. I took the liberty of opening it myself. You see we can't be too careful about these little details. I told the porter to look after you and let me know the moment you came. Of course you are anxious about your boy."

"I am," said the old man firmly. "That's why I'm here."

"Certainly, certainly. So are we all, and I presume I'm the most anxious man of the lot. Now what you want to know is how he is getting along."

"Yes, I want to know the truth."

"Well, unfortunately, the truth is about as gloomy as it can be. He's been going from bad to worse, and no man is more sorry than I am."

"Do you mean to tell me so?"

"Yes. There is no use deluding ourselves. Frankly I have no hope for him. There is not one chance in 10,000 of his recovering his lost ground."

The old man caught his breath and leaned on his cane for support. He realized now the hollowness of his previous anger. He had never for a moment believed the boy was going to the bad. Down underneath his crustiness was a deep love for his son and a strong faith in him. He had allowed his old habit of domineering to get the better of him, and now in searching after a phantom, he had suddenly come upon a ghastly reality.

"Look here," said the banker, noticing his agitation, "have a drink of special Scotch with me. It is the best there is to be had for money. We always take off our hats when we speak of the special in this club. Then we'll go and see how things are moving."

As he turned to order the liquor he noticed for the first time the placard on the cup.

"Now, who the dickens put that there?" he cried angrily. "There is no use in giving up before you're thrashed."

Saying which he took off the placard, tore it up and threw it into the wastebasket.

"Does Richard drink?" asked the old man huskily, remembering the eulogy on the special.

"Bless you, no, nor smoke either; no, nor gamble, which is more extraordinary. No, it's all right for old fellows like you and me to indulge in the special—bless it!—but a young man who needs to keep his nerves in order has to live like a monk. I imagine it's a love affair. Of course there's no use asking you. You would be the last one to know. When he came in tonight, I saw he was worried over something. I asked him what it was, but he declared there was nothing wrong. Here's the liquor. You'll find that it reaches the spot."

The old man gulped down some of the celebrated special; then he said:

"It is true that you induced my son to join this club?"

"Certainly. I heard what he could do from a man I had confidence in, and I said to myself, 'We must have young Saunders for a member.'"

"Then don't you think you are largely to blame?"

"Oh, if you like to put it that way. Yes. Still, I'm the chief loser. I lose $10,000 by him."

"Good God!" cried the stricken father.

The banker looked at the old man a little nervously, as if he feared his head was not exactly right. Then he said:

"Of course you will be anxious to see how the thing ends. Come in with me, but be careful the boy doesn't catch a sight of you. It might rattle him. I'll get you a place at the back, where you can see without being seen."

They rose, and the banker led the way on tiptoe through between the curtains into a large room filled with silent men earnestly watching a player at a billiard table in the center of the apartment. Temporary seats had been built around the walls, tier above tier, and every place was taken. Saunders noticed his son standing near the table in his shirt sleeves, with his cue butt downward on the ground. His face was pale and his lips compressed as he watched his opponent's play like a man fascinated. Evidently his back was against the wall, and he was fighting a hopeless fight, but was grit to the last.

Old Saunders only faintly understood the situation, but his whole sympathy went out to his boy, and he felt an instinctive hatred of the confident opponent who was knocking the balls about with a reckless accuracy which was evidently bringing dismay to the hearts of at least half of the onlookers.

All at once there was a burst of applause, and the player stood up straight with a laugh.

"By Jove!" cried the banker. "He's missed. Didn't put enough stick behind it. That comes of being too blamed sure. Shouldn't wonder but there is going to be a turn of luck. Perhaps you'll prove a mascot, Mr. Saunders."

He placed the old man on an elevated seat at the back. There was a buzz of talk as young Saunders stood there chalking his cue, apparently loath to begin.

Hammond mixed among the crowd and spoke eagerly now to one, now to another. Old Saunders said to the man next him:

"What is it all about? Is this an important match?"

"Important! You bet it is. I suppose there's more money on this game than was ever up on a billiard match before. Why, Jule Hammond alone has $10,000 on Saunders."

The old man gave a quivering sigh of relief. He was beginning to understand. The $10,000, then, was not the figure of a defalcation.

"Yes," continued the other, "it's the great match for the cup. There's been a series of games, and this is the culminating one. Prognor has won one and Saunders one. Now this game settles it. Prognor is the man of the High Fliers' club. He's a good one. Saunders won the cup for this club last year, so they can't kick much if they lose it now. They've never had a man to touch Saunders in this club since it began. I doubt if there's another amateur like him in this country. He's a man to be proud of, although he seemed to go to pieces tonight. They'll all be down on him tomorrow if they lose their money, although he doesn't make anything one way or another. I believe it's the high betting that's made him so anxious and spoiled his play."

"Hush, hush!" was whispered around the room. Young Saunders had begun to play. Prognor stood by with a superior smile on his lips. He was certain to go out when his turn came again. Saunders played very carefully, taking no risks, and his rather watched him with absorbed, breathless interest. Though he knew nothing of the game, he soon began to see how points were made. The boy never looked up from the green cloth and the balls. He stepped around the table to his different positions without hurry, and yet without undue tardiness. All eyes were fastened on his play, and there was not a sound in the large room but the ever recurring click clack of the balls. The father marveled at the almost magical command the player had over the ivory spheres. They came and went, rebounded and struck, seemingly because he willed this result or that. There were a dexterity of touch, an accurate measurement of force, a correct estimate of angles, a truth of the eye and a muscular control that left the old man amazed that the combination of all these delicate niceties was concentrated in one person, and that person his own son.

At last two of the balls lay close together, and the young man, playing very deftly, appeared to be able to keep them in that position as if he might go on scoring indefinitely. He went on in this way for some time, when suddenly the silence was broken by Prognor crying out:

"I don't call that billiards. It's baby play."

Instantly there was an uproar. Saunders grounded his cue on the floor and stood calmly amid the storm, his eyes fixed on the green cloth. There were shouts of, "You were not interrupted!"

"That's for the umpires to decide."

"Play your game, Saunders!" "Don't be bluffed!" The old man stood up with the rest, and his natural combativeness urged him to take part in the fray and call for fair play. The umpire rose and demanded order. When the tumult had subsided, he sat down. Some of the high fliers, however, cried: "Decision! Decision!"

"There is nothing to decide," said the umpire severely. "Go on with your play, Mr. Saunders."

Then young Saunders did a thing that took away the breath of his friends. He deliberately struck the balls with his cue ball and scattered them far and wide. A simultaneous sigh seemed to rise from the breasts of the True Blues.

"That is magnificent, but it is not war," said the man beside old Saunders. "He has no right to throw away a single chance when he is so far behind."

"Oh, he's not so far behind! Look at the score," put in a man on the right.

Saunders carefully nursed the balls up together once more, scored off them for awhile, and again he struck them far apart. This he did three times. He apparently seemed bent on showing how completely he had the table under control. Suddenly a great cheer broke out, and young Saunders rested as before without taking his eyes from the cloth.

"What does that mean?" cried the old man excitedly, with dry lips.

"Why, don't you see? He's tied the score. I imagine this is an almost unprecedented run. I believe he's got Prognor on toast, if you ask me."

Hammond came up with flushed face and grasped the old man by the arm with a vigor that made him wince.

"Did you ever see anything grander than that?" he said, under cover of the momentary applause. "I'm willing to lose my $10,000 now without a murmur. You see you are a mascot after all."

The old man was too much excited to speak, but he hoped the boy would take no more chances. Again came the click clack of the balls. The father was pleased to see that Dick played now with all the care and caution he had observed at first. The silence became intense, almost painful. Every man leaned forward and scarcely breathed.

All at once Prognor strode down to the billiard table and stretched his hand across it. A cheer shook the ceiling. The cap would remain on the black marble pedestal. Saunders had won. He took the outstretched hand of his defeated opponent, and the building rang again.

Banker Hammond pushed his way through the congratulating crowd and smote the winner cordially on the shoulder.

"That was a great run, Dick, my boy. The old man was your mascot. Your luck changed the moment he came in. Your father had his eye on you all the time."

"What!" cried Dick, with a jump. "I'm very proud of you, my son," said his father when at last he reached him. "It takes skill and pluck and nerve to win a contest like that. I'm off now. I want to tell your mother about it."

"Wait a moment, father, and we'll walk home together," said Dick.

WINTER STYLES.

Capes and Jackets—The Wide Range of Hats.

Short close jackets of red or blue cloth, embroidered, braided or simply corded around the edge and trimmed with buttons, are fashionable and pretty, as are also capotes of cloth or silk with a light lining. The latter are trimmed with embroidery, applications of lace or motifs of velvet and often have a capuchin which gives them piquancy. Plaid capotes are also seen, sometimes as a complement to a plaid costume, sometimes for general wear.

Feathers will be the most important feature in winter millinery and will be seen in every variety, on all sorts of hats, in great profusion. Feather boas of ostrich plumes, coo feathers or down are worn, mainly in pale gray. They are short and are made fanciful in various ways.

Fur and silk beavers are being introduced again and will be worn when the right time arrives.

The picture given today shows a walking costume of old red cashmere. It is in princess form, and the skirt is cut in panels which are separated by fans of red surah and ornamented at the top with black velvet ribbons connected by black cords. A black velvet ribbon applied in points surrounds the hips. The bodice is trimmed with a drapery which fastens at the left side with large steel buttons and is edged all around with black velvet. The draped collar and the high frill are of black velvet also. The toque of black velvet is trimmed with white feathers.

Stuffed Furniture and New Covering For It—Pleasing Effects.

The covering of stuffed furniture always wears out long before the frames are at all injured and often when the springs and stuffing are in good condition. When the furniture is covered smoothly and not tufted, it is not at all difficult to recover it at home and make it as good as new. The old outside covering must be taken off, but the inner covering that holds the hair in place is, of course, not removed. The material for the new covering must be cut carefully to the proper shape (if the old covering is not destroyed in process of removal it will serve as a pattern) and nailed in place with small tacks. It requires to be drawn very tight and smooth and to have the edges turned in so as to give the tacks a more substantial hold upon it. Furniture gimp serves to cover these edges and is fastened in place with little nails having an ornamental head. A fold of leather may be used instead of gimp in some cases.

The material that is chosen for the covering must be something easy for an amateur to handle, of course. For bedrooms and for the furniture of summer cottages flowered cretonne is very pretty. Denim in all shades is likewise serviceable. Bro-catels are not so interesting and original, and as the charm of recovering furniture lies in making it a little different from that generally seen in the shops it is better to choose something a little less ordinary. Nothing is more durable than corduroy, and in dull blue, green, olive, terra cotta or wine tints it is very effective. Tapestry having large, set figures on a plain ground is also pleasing, for the figure may be arranged so as to come in the middle of the back or seat of a chair, as if it were made on purpose for it.

The sketch given today shows a rather odd blouse bodice, made of foulard, having a bias plaid in red, beige and pale blue. The bodice is trimmed with clusters of horizontal bands of narrow black velvet, finished at the ends by loops and small steel buttons. The close sleeves, which have a small puff at the top, are decorated in the same way, and similar bands form epaulets. The soft collar is of red surah and is completed by a frill of white gauze and loops of black velvet. The belt is also of red surah and is tied at the side. A double jabot of embroidered white gauze is arranged on the left side of the bodice.

Frost Did No Damage.

Des Moines, Iowa, Sept. 18.—Northwestern Iowa reports a slight frost Thursday night, but no damage was done by it.

BRIGHT'S DISEASE

is the most dangerous of all human ailments because its approach is unobscured. Its symptoms are common to other diseases, viz., Severe Headache, Backache, Dizziness, Sleeplessness, Blurred Vision, Dyspepsia, etc. Once let it get a firm hold on the system and it is difficult to dislodge. It is caused by inability of the kidneys to filter the Urea from the blood.

Yet it can be

CURED

I have been a victim of rheumatism for many years, and suffered during that time untold agony, at times the pain being unbearable. Not only did I have rheumatism, but physicians said I had Bright's disease; I knew I had awful pains in my back. A short time ago I got some of Dr. Hobbs' Spargus Kidney Pills at the Huber Bros. drug store, and though I would try them and see if they were any good. To my surprise my rheumatism has disappeared and my kidneys have ceased to pain me any more. It must be your Spargus Pills that have fixed me in such good shape, for I am now a comparatively well man. Your pills are all right. I am, P. PHYSICIANS BAFFLED.

Prof. R. S. Bowman, Instructor of Natural Science in Hartsville College, Cured of a Severe Illness by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People after Physicians Failed.

From the Republican, Columbus, Ind.

Prof. R. S. Bowman, the able instructor of natural science in the famous Hartsville College, Ind., is well and favorably known, not only as an educator, but also as a minister of the gospel, as for a number of years he was pastor of the United Brethren church at Charlotte, Mich., before coming to Hartsville.

PROF. R. S. BOWMAN.

Some time ago he had a severe illness which was cured almost miraculously. A reporter hearing of this, interviewed him regarding his experience. Prof. Bowman was in the midst of his work when the reporter called, but he cheerfully gave him a hearing.

"A year ago last fall," said the professor, "I broke down with nervous exhaustion, and was unable to properly attend to my duties. I tried different physicians but with no relief, and also used many different proprietary medicines, spending almost fifty dollars for these medicines alone. I then resorted to a siege of the grip in the middle of winter, and was left in a much worse condition. My kidneys were fearfully disordered, and my digestion became very poor. I was indeed in a bad condition."

"A minister in conference learning of my condition advised me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. I had heard much about the wonderful curative powers of this medicine, but it was with reluctance that I was finally persuaded to try it, as it seemed that nothing could do me any good. However, I procured three boxes of pills and took them strictly according to directions. By the time the last dose was taken I was almost cured, and in better health than I had been for years. I continued using the pills awhile longer and was entirely cured. I can cheerfully recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People."

Such was Professor Bowman's wonderful story which was further endorsed by the following affidavit:

HARTSVILLE, Ind., March 16, 1897.

I affirm that the above accounts with the facts in my case.

ELASTIC STARCH has been before the people of the United States for twenty-three years and is without doubt the greatest starch invention of the Nineteenth Century. Last year its sale reached the unprecedented number of twenty million packages. It is prepared upon scientific principles by men who have had years of practical experience in fancy laundrying. It makes ironing easy, restores old summer dresses to their natural whiteness, and imparts to linen a beautiful and lasting finish. It is the only starch manufactured that is perfectly harmless, containing neither arsenic, alum, or any other substance injurious to linen, and can be used even as a baby powder.

No Guess Necessary....

THE LEADER doesn't need to be guessed about. THE LEADER is above reproach as a store for the people and of the people. It has not its equal. THE LEADER is not a concern to sell out every day and humbug the people with bankrupt stocks. It has come among you to be permanent. THE LEADER is not a concern to change the prices on goods every day. Rock bottom prices were made on all articles when the doors were first thrown open to public patronage and so they have remained. THE LEADER buys its goods and pays for them without the assistance of any one. THE LEADER has not come here to hoodwink people but rather to gain their confidence by honest methods. There is no purchasing place in Southern Wisconsin where business is done more honorably and whose business principles are better formed than THE LEADER'S. Every article in the stock is guaranteed in every manner, both price and quality. We buy direct from the best factories in existence and buy for cash. The middleman's profit is saved and the public derive the benefit.

THE LEADER CARRIES IN STOCK

Hardware, Tinware, Graniteware, Woodenware, Fiberware, Glassware, Crockery, Cutlery, Cooking Utensils, Paints, Brushes, Soaps, Sunshine Stoves and Ranges, Etc., Etc.,

And guarantees you lower prices than you can find elsewhere. We have a line of seventy-five different patterns of Stoves and Ranges; with everyone a written guarantee against fault of any kind. Take them home, set them up, try them thoroughly, and, if not exactly as represented bring them back, and you get your money back. THE LEADER has employed one of the best hardware and stove men in Southern Wisconsin--a lifetime experience in the business--Mr. Adam Sanner. He has entire charge of this department.

The Leader Towers above Competition

Like a steeple alongside of a small gable. It enjoys public confidence which is most necessary for the carrying on of a successful business. It is not afraid of being broken up at any time, and could, should necessity demand, produce $25,000.00 on the shortest notice. All THE LEADER asks of buyers is a comparison of goods and prices before making purchases. There will be no guess work as to where to buy goods. Perfect satisfaction is guaranteed in every way whether the purchase be 1c or $100.00. If at any time you have bought any article at THE LEADER and it has not met most heartily with your approval bring it back and get your money refunded. We depend upon the public for patronage, therefore the public will be well treated by us. You will find us in the future as in the past as anxious to do all in our power in the trade line to merit your good opinion. You will always find our prices 25% to 40% lower than the lowest on all commodities. You'll find us "new timber." "Dead lumber saws no wood."
